INTEGRA

Integra Cartridge

Cartridge Type:

This is a Cartridge document, which is digitally locked and can be used with ease and flexibility when building future Integra Smart Documents. What is a "Cartridge"? A "Cartridge" document is an Integra Smart Document, which contains metadata that is trusted and verified against the Integra Ledger with its unique hash or digital fingerprint. These "Cartridge" documents build a template creation schema library for organizations and its employees. These templates can use standard contract templates when creating Integra Smart Documents.

Please click on the link below to get started with creating Smart Documents using Cartridges (alternatively you can copy and paste the link into your browser window):

https://cartridge.integraledger.com/cartridge-user

Once you are on the page, drag this document on to the page. This demonstrates that once the digital hash of the document can be verified, the meta data within the document becomes computable.